The Runner Post (ISSN 0953-3354)

History of Publication

The 'Runner Post' was born in the spring of 1984 when Roy Setterfield of Sussex mailed a two-page newsletter to a group of collectors that he knew was interested in the philately of the Bechuanalands. The newsletter was simply headed "BECHUANALAND" and had a subheading reading: "This is the first attempt at a (newsletter) for our Project..." The newsletter was typewritten and photocopied with a single illustration showing an example of the 'GUBULAWAYO/BECHUANALAND' cancellation. Roy Setterfield notes that "I have a list of about 40 names for this mailing. Whether we progress as a Study Group or similar depends on you. The break-down is something like this: Well and truly hooked (2); Very interested (12); Interested (11); and No-reply-as-yet (10), as well as those who do not collect Bechuanalands, but are sympathetic to our project." The first truly hooked group is identified as Roy Setterfield himself and Brian Trotter. At that point Brian Trotter was already working on this postmark typology that later would develop into a special Society postmark study.

The second newsletter was distributed later the same year and was adequately headed 'NEWSLETTER No. TWO. BECHUANALAND PROJECT.' The third newsletter was distributed early the following year and was headed 'BECHUANALANDS NEWSLETTER NO 3.' Both the second and third newsletters exist in two different versions suggesting that they were retyped and copied as required and distributed to an increasing larger circle of interested collectors. The first collector that contributed to the newsletter in addition to Roy Setterfield was Jim Catterall who reported on high denomination stamps used at Francistown on parcel labels for gold mailings. Other collectors that contributed to the newsletter were Brian Trotter and Karl Seligmann. Roy Setterfield notes that "This is more like a Newsletter should be – not just a one-man effort."

The next newsletter titled 'THE RUNNERPOST' and identified as 'NEWSLETTER NO. 4' was distributed in the autumn of 1985. We consider this issue the inaugural Runner Post since it contains the minutes of the 'Inaugural Meeting of the Bechuanalands and Botswana Society' and also because this is the first time that the name 'Runner Post' is used. The following quote is from the report of the inaugural meeting: "Having regard to our scattered membership, a Newsletter is essential, to be issued quarterly, by Airmail where necessary. The next issue (No. 4) to include the report of this meeting, to be improved in appearance, and to be entitled 'The Runner Post'. The style, content, format, costs of production and postage were discussed, also editorship."

The following issues often contained references to both NEWSLETTER and RUNNER POST and maintain parallel numberings for the two. The newsletter numbering continues to Newsletter No. 12 (with Runner Post No. 9). Then several years go before another newsletter appears. This happens in January 1999 when NEWSLETTER No. 4 appears (the overlap in newsletter numbers is presumably caused by the lack of an index). With Newsletter No. 6, the name is changed to 'Runner News.' To date only six Runner News has appeared, the latest in March 2003 as No. 11. The revitalized Newsletter/Runner News occurred during a low period in activities and was envisioned to contain Society news, while the Runner Post should mainly contain philatelic and postal history news and articles. The distinction was, however, never maintained rigorously.

From the first issue in 1985, the Runner Post fast developed into the journal we today are well acquainted with and rely on to keep us informed. From Runner Post No. 2, Alan MacGregor joins Roy Setterfield as editor and, thereby, appears as the main force behind the high standard of the Runner Post for the next 17 years, or so, until Neville Midwood takes over the editorship in July 2000.

The three 'official seals' of the Bechuanalands and Botswana first appeared on the front page of Runner Post No. 1. The well-known 'runner' was introduced for Runner Post No. 4 in August 1986. The ISSN number (0953-3354) was obtained for the Runner Post from No. 10 in March 1988. Little has thus changed in the general design of the Runner Post since first launched in 1985.

The Runner Post has been and still today is issued quarterly with an average total of about 100 pages per year. Alan MacGregor originally produced the Runner Post with Microsoft Word and pasted illustrations onto a master printout that was mailed to London. The issues were there photocopied and distributed with a yellowish card cover to the European and American members. Members in southern Africa received their journal locally photocopied. My own experience is that the Runner Post was photocopied in Botswana and distributed often in poor quality and definitely without cover (but the best possible in Gaborone at that time). More recently, the Runner Post has completely been produced electronically and printed using a laser printer by Neville Midwood. The first coloured issue appeared in June 2004.

Numerous important articles have been published in the Runner Post over the years. Without mention specific articles, a brief look at the list of contents and the author index identifies many authors that frequently have contributed (in alphabetic order and with the number of listings in the author index in parenthesis): Andy Andersson (10), Hamish Campbell (6), Jim Catterall (35), Tony Chilton (14), Howard Cook (17), Alan Drysdall (25), Brian Fenemore (12), David Finlay (12), Dennis Firth (8), Mike George (17), Brian Hurst (13), John Inglefield-Watson (118), Alan MacGregor (29), Karl Seligmann (7), Roy Setterfield (8), Peter Thy (57), Brian Trotter (53), Peter van der Molen (14), David Wall (11), Steve Wallace (10), Bruce Warrender (18), and David Wessely (9). The contributions may have been brief notes about new finds or the result of lengthy research. The authors cover three continents with authors from South Africa, Botswana, USA, and UK, however, the most prolific contributor to the Runner Post since 1985 has been John Inglefield-Watson with more than 100 hits in the author index.

There are a few subjects such as the postmark study organized by Brian Trotter and later continued by Bruce Warrender that has been an important part of the Runner Post. Other subjects has been John Inglefield-Watson's 'Postal Stationery News and Views,' and Steve Wallace and Alan MacGregor's rarer stamp study, just to mention a few. Postal auctions have been part of society activities for which auction lists as well as prices realized have been published in the Runner Post. Tony Chilton, Howard Cook, and Brian Hurst have organized these auctions. Jim Catterall has prepared yearly and cumulative indexes that have formed the basis for the present index.

Guide to Index

The index is divided in four parts. First is a detailed list of issues that also includes supplements and separate mailings to the extent these have been preserved. Second is the main subject index. Third is an author index. Finally and fourth is a detailed list of contents. It is recommended that a particular subject or author reference first is located in the detailed list of contents before found in your own holding of past issues.

Many items in the Runner Post are small notes of findings, news, and queries. Often these appear without a specific author and sometimes lack title. Despite that it can be assumed that the editors wrote these smaller notes, they are if possible referenced to the persons that supplied the material or information on which they are based. If required, a short informative title, given in parenthesis, has been added. It should be kept in the mind that the subject indexes have been assigned by the present indexer with his personal interests and experiences. Despite such restrictions, it is hoped that the subject index will be useful as a first search tool for the Runner Post.

The Runner Post has had its fair share of publication problems as is common for many similar smaller society journals and/or newsletters. Up and down periods have been integral parts of Society life. This sometime makes indexing difficult. The first challenge is the parallel series of newsletters and journal with separate pagination. Because in practice there is no systematic differences between the Runner Post and the Newsletter/Runner News, it was chosen to include both in the index. The Runner Post is referenced in the index as RP. The newsletter is referenced as RN and furthermore is in italic (blue if your copy is printed in colour). Another problem is frequent supplements (RS) and separate mailings (SM), some of which require at least a general indexing. Typical separate mailings have been auctions lists and reports of annual general meetings. Sometimes these are listed as supplements in the table of contents of individual issues and sometimes they are included in the regular newsletter or journal. The same problem exists for special mailings that were common between 1997 and 2001 when the Society had a 'down period' and the only communications were by separate mailings and an occasional newsletter.

The pagination of the Runner Post is consecutive without division into year or volume sections. This makes the index easy to use and to construct. References in the index are given to the whole number and pages, despite that information on page numbers should be sufficient to locate a particular reference in the Runner Post, but not in the newsletter. The editor introduced the consecutive pagination in 1987 from Runner Post 7 starting with page 101. The page numbers of the previous issues were retrospectively renumbered, including Newsletters 1 to 4, to between pages 1 and 100A. Pagination was again changed from Runner Post 34, such that each number starts with an odd page number. To allow this, one page number was deliberately skipped.

Notes

1. 1999 special issue with selection of edited articles prepared for PACIFIC 97, World Philatelic Exhibition (San Francisco, May 29 - June 8). The 2002 special issue contains another selection of edited articles.
2. Titled 'NEWSLETTER.' The newsletter was reprinted in RP 61.
3. Titled 'NEWSLETTER No. TWO, BECHUANALAND PROJECT.' The original typed issue was on two pages, while the retyped issue was on three pages. Not paginated. The three-paginated version is used for the renumbering. The newsletter was reprinted in RP 62.
4. The originally typed issue was on four unpaginated pages and with the title 'BECHUANALANDS NEWSLETTER NO. 3' and dated March/April 1985. A presumably later retyped 3-page version was unpaginated and undated with the title 'BECHUANALANDS PROJECT NEWSLETTER No. 3.'
5. Titled 'The Bechuanalands and Botswana Society. NEWSLETTER NO. 4 (or 5).'
6. The title changed with newsletter No. 6 to 'The Runner News.'
7. Newsletter No. 4 was later renumbered as Runner Post No. 1 (see Runner Post No. 2, p. 1).
8. There is no reference to newsletter number on the front page.
9. Pagination was changes to be numbered consecutive from this issue starting from page 101 (see RP 7, p. 102). The page numbers of the previous issues were retrospectively renumbered, including Newsletters 1 to 4, to between 1 and 100A. Page number 100A appears to have resulted from the variable total pages of Newsletter No. 3 (see Index to Vol. 1 (RP 9)).
10. The reference to newsletter was discontinued from this number.
11. Pagination was changed from No. 34, such that each number starts with an odd page number. One page number was deliberately skipped (page 704).
12. A trial version of No. 57 exists printed in colour distributed to Committee Members.
13. No. 60 is the first issue printed in colour.
